

RV SPRING CLEANING CHECKLIST

Spring is finally here! Warmer weather and longer days are ahead, and camping season is coming up quickly! Before you hit the road and spend hours in your RV, take some time to clean thoroughly. Here are a few tips to get your vehicle spotless this spring!

- Stock up on all the necessary cleaning supplies before you get started. Deep cleaning requires more than just a bottle of multipurpose cleaner. Make sure you've got everything you need before you start scrubbing.
- Inspect and clean the exterior of your vehicle. Rain and snow throughout the winter can create rust and water damage, which causes a wide variety of issues for your RV. Look at the roof, sides, awnings, and holding tanks, then replace or repair any damages.
- Open your windows and air out your vehicle! After months of storage, your RV will definitely need some fresh air. Give it a chance to breathe while you tidy up the interior.
- Thoroughly clean and disinfect the kitchen and bathroom. Grime, dust, and bacteria can easily accumulate in these frequently used areas, and it's best to start the season with these areas sparklingly clean! Scrub and sanitize the shower, toilet, and sinks. Wipe down the insides and outsides of your appliances and electronics, too!
- Use a microfiber cleaning cloth to wipe away the dust that's accumulated on interior surfaces. Vacuum carpets and mop floors to make the whole cabin dust-free!
- Clean out your cabinets and drawers, and get rid of supplies you no longer use. Check the blinds, re-hang the curtains, and change your linens and towels.
- Perform regular preventative maintenance: look at your engine, check the tire pressure, and charge your batteries. Don't forget to de-winterize your vehicle before hitting the road, too. Flush and sanitize your water system to get rid of bacteria, mold, and the RV antifreeze you added months ago. Check and test your appliances, propane tanks, generators, and safety devices.
